Martin Luther wrote in his introduction to Romans that “this epistle is in truth the most important document in the New Testament, the gospel in its purest expression.” This course will give participants a solid, overall understanding of this important letter. The student will also gain insight into how God makes humanity right with God, others, and ourselves. The course explores how we live faithfully as followers of Jesus, with focus on faith, baptism, transformed lives, Christian community, and the role of women in the early church.
